

JEAN-PIERRE SERGENT

BIOGRAPHY

- 1958 Born in Morteau, France. French, Swiss, American.
- 1978-1981 Studies architecture in Strasbourg and later painting at L'école des Beaux-Arts de Besançon.
- 1983-1991 Works as visual artist while raising and training horses in the Jura Mountains. Completes monochrome abstractions on Masonite polyptych panels.
- 1991 Moves to Montreal to devote himself fully to painting. Creates works using Plexiglas, industrial materials, newspaper clippings and photos. Begins incorporating silkscreening techniques.
- 1993 Sets up studio in New York City. Paints street-found object "sculpture-paintings" series, creates silkscreens on Plexiglas tile assemblages.
- 1998 Exhibits a monumental site-specific mural plexiglas painting at the French Institute of New York. Works as a professional silkscreen printer at the Drexel Press, L.I.C.
- 2001-2003 Paints the "Mayan Diary" series, a modular mural installation of 42" x 42" silkscreened Plexiglas squares inspired after his travels to Mexico by pre-Columbian Aztec and Mayan imagery. This body of work is exhibited at several New York galleries and cultural centers. Sergent uses computer technology to redesign gathered images and cut silkscreen film.
- 2005 Moves his studio to Besançon, France and divides his time between New York City and Besançon.
- 2007 Installs "Mayan Diary" 2003, (18 paintings silkscreened on plexiglas, 10'4" X 20'8") for the set design of Traviata Giuseppe Verdi's Opera in the minimalist scenery by Didier Brunel.
- 2008 Installs "Mayan Diary 24" (10'4" x 27'6") in the "Salle des Iles Basses" city of Ornans, France. Documentary film "Insolation et autres puissances symboliques" realized by Jean-luc Gantner.

PRESENT Sergent engages himself in themes of eroticism, shamanism, and the cosmology of the afterlife and chaos. The artist uses life's forces to confront individual and collective mind/body and social/cultural forms of alienation. His works dig deeply into the collective super-conscious and various pre-industrial mythologies in order to honor the Man/Nature/Culture/Universe interconnection. He also depicts "wholeness areas" which human-beings can reach through spirituality or sexual intimacy. Since 2000, Sergent has been working on the "Mayan Diary" series, which he began in NYC, utilizing a palimpsest silkscreen art technique, appropriating, accumulating, and layering images.

Sergent works from his studio in Besançon. He has exhibited extensively in Europe, as well as in Canada and the US.
